Step 3: Select your editing tool Image Source: Creative Commons When the software opens, you will see a photo of a dog on your computer. It will have various tools at the top. Step 4: Create your layer Image Source: Freepik You should always start with a new layer by clicking on the New Layer button in the layers panel. Click on the New Layer button to create a new layer. This will create a canvas for you to work with and it will keep your new layer separate from the other layers. You will also need to increase the size of this layer to fill the image. Click on the Size bar at the top to increase the size of the layer. You want to select the full size of the image to edit and to fill the entire canvas. Click on either the Horizontal or the Vertical Size bar to do this. You can also use the step tool to increase the size of the layer without affecting the size of the image. Once you are finished editing, you should click on Save to close the software and save your image. You can also close this software and work in another program like Gimp or Lightroom. Masonboro Island Masonboro Island is the fourth largest island in the Outer Banks of North Carolina. The island is located in the town of Rodanthe and the Cape Hatteras National Seashore. Masonboro is a barrier island and therefore does not have a town beach. The island is primarily occupied by the Masonboro Island Bird Sanctuary. Geography The island of Masonboro is the largest land mass in the Nags Head-Manteo-Baker Area of Critical State Concern. It is approximately 7.6 square miles in size. The highest point on the island is at an elevation of 546 feet at Sea View Point, and the lowest point is 550 feet at a tidal creek called Little Pamlico Creek. The southern coastline of Masonboro Island includes two barrier islands called North and South Shoal, which extends into the Atlantic Ocean at a distance of nearly four miles. History In the winter of 1846-47, the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad came to Masonboro, intending to extend a branch line from the Atlantic shore to its main line in Raleigh. The company decided not to extend the line to the Nags Head area due to turbulent weather conditions. After it had been decided not to construct the line to Nags Head, the company leased a large portion of the island to Dr. W.H.C. Hughes for growing vegetables for its workers. The island was originally called "Mason's Island" after Henry Mason, who became the owner of the island in the 1850s. After Henry Mason, the island was owned by a number of Nags Head residents. In 1879, Nags Head resident W.H.P. Gault built a breakwater of concrete and rock on the island to protect it from the storm surge of the nearby

---

Nags Head Channel. The Gault Island Breakwater has been replaced by a newer seawall, which was constructed during the 1970s. The island was originally owned by Henry Mason. From 1888 to 1902, Masonboro was owned by James W. Broadbent. Broadbent left Masonboro to Peter S. Hendry, who eventually left Masonboro to Burt Wilbur. Wilbur was the owner of the island from 1902 until 1931. In 1929, the federal government purchased the land from Wilbur, and the island was transferred to the National Park Service. In May, 1968, a pipeline explosion on the island sent 76,

Q: Number of types (define (fib n) (cond [(= n 0) 1] [(= n 1) 1] [else (fib (- n 1)) + fib (- n 2)])) fib is a recursive function. I am asked to prove that it returns the following "types":  $(\text{fib } 3) \Rightarrow 1$ How can I do this? EDIT: I want a solution that isn't just saying it's easy to do it: if it's too easy I don't want to be missing something, if it's too hard I'm not going to understand it. A: You can evaluate the expression at runtime, and compare it to a known constant (such as 1) for the purposes of optimization. If you can prove that when evaluating  $(\text{fib } n)$ , you will always have the expression  $(\text{fib}$

---

$(- n 1)) + \text{fib} (- n 2)$  equal to 1, or an absolute value equal to 1, then that proves that fib always returns the same value for each given n. A: If you don't want to or can't prove the function's type, then you could maybe make it non-recursive: (define (fib n) (cond [(= n 0) 1] [(= n 1) 1] [(= n 2) (\* (+ 1 (fib (- n 1))) (fib (- n 2)))] [else (fib (- n 1)) + fib (- n 2)])) Or maybe even one that returns : (define (fib n) (cond [(= n 0) 1] [(= n 1) 1] [(=
